

LITA FORUM

Who is LITA?

As the center of expertise about information technology, the Library and Information Technology Association (LITA), a division of the American Library Association (ALA), is the leading organization in exploring and enabling new technologies to empower libraries. The membership includes new professionals, web services librarians, systems librarians, digital initiatives librarians, library administrators, library schools, vendors and anyone else interested in leading edge technology and applications for librarians and information providers.

What is LITA Forum?

The Forum is a national conference providing an ideal place to interact with the library technologists who are using your products, may be considering implementing them, and are decision-makers or influence the decision-making process. Attendees are working at the cutting edge of library technology and are interested in making connections with technically-inclined members of your team, who can share new developments and projects in libraries.

Forum 2017 is...

Celebrating its 20th anniversary and we expect a diverse group of about 300 technology-minded information professionals coming from across the U.S. and Canada.

“It was a great experience. The size was perfect, and it was nice to be able to talk shop with people doing similar work in person over food and drinks. I'd really enjoy local LITA meetings or happy hours that allow me to do this on a more regular basis.”

“Great job with the Forum. It was a good experience for a first year librarian and I look forward to attending future meetings.”

“I thought it was great. I'm hoping I can come again in the future.”

“This was an amazing conference experience. I enjoyed the emphasis on ethics in the keynote speakers. The variety of sessions was quite good. And the opportunities for socializing and meeting other librarians was excellent.”

“I really enjoyed how small the sessions were, and how easily accessible speakers were after sessions ended.”

“Overall, this was an interesting conference. I got to talk to people doing really great things, and have been able to come away with ideas to implement or investigate at my own library.”
